

March 30:

Feeling hungry? Love a great dinner party? We have an idea for you!

Here are some tips for hosting a Digital Dinner Party:

1. Organize your guest list.
2. Select a platform and familiarize yourself with it. Facetime, Google hangouts, Skype, Zoom, ooVoo, AnyMeeting, and GoToMeeting are some great options!
3. Give your group time to learn how to use the video platform. Consider doing a test run with your group to get the hang of it.
4. Create and schedule a meeting time for your dinner party.
5. Set the tone of the party by having a theme. Here are a few to consider:
 - Have a "wish you were here" theme, where guests make meals that they'd love to serve to their friends.
 - Encourage guests to create dishes from a certain genre or favorite location. (Italian Night, Hawaiian Luau, Mediterranean Tapas Menu, etc.)
 - Invite everyone to make the same recipe, putting their own unique spin on it.
 - Encourage everyone to order "to go" food from Stone & Barrel or one of the many local restaurants that are needing our support more than ever.
6. Decorate the room you'll be in, so that others can view your tablescape and the festive look behind you.
7. Plan to play an interactive game, like charades or Pictionary, after dessert.
8. Before you wrap up the night, plan a date for your next Digital Dinner Party.

April 6:

There are some lights that we really don't want to see—namely, the lights of the hospital or an ambulance. If you have an issue but aren't quite sure if you should go to the hospital, try DispatchHealth. This service makes medical care at home quick, easy, and affordable! Avoid clinic germs and some of the stress and inconvenience of long waits. DispatchHealth comes to you. And if you do need more help than they can offer, they will call an ambulance for you. Check them out www.dispatchhealth.com or call 480.295.4490.
